FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention.

With whom do mermaids probably flirt? With swells of the ocean.

ANOTHER youthful victim has succumbed to the deadly cigarette. Who will be next?

THERE is a man named Beaver who just now seems to have control of the Governorship race.

ONE hundred and fifteen years ago the "embattled farmers" at Lexington "fired the shot heard round the world."

MR. AND MRS. "MONTE" WARD'S matrimonial relations have undergone the misfortune of being put out at home base. Selah.

IN the contest between the United States Senate and the newspaper correspondents the correspondents appear to have come out ahead.

THE coolness of the weather to-day will not prevent the Investigating Committee from making things very warm for the Board of Aldermen.

WITH the base ball season fairly opened Congress might as well wind up its futile dalliance with the tariff and pension bills and subside into obscurity,

THE Democratic "kick" against the McKinley tariff bill has been noisy but feeble. Evidently our brethren on the wrong side of the fence realize that public opinion is against them.

IT is very easy to say "we are a good American citizen," but even a citizen of this country is judged by his actions. One of the ways to judge an American citizen is by the way he assists those who are fighting his battles.

THE Independent Loyal American is published in the interest of free thought, free speech, free press, free worship and free schools. The paper is entirely free. Not bound by fear, money or favor. It is just what its name indicates, an Independent Loyal American.

OF all the fiendish personalities that come to the front in this age from time to time, the fiend who throws sulphuric acid on women, whether wives or former sweethearts, is just about the worst. Justice should be swift and relentless in her dealings with such blots on humanity.

IT is not likely that the 65,000,000 of people which the new census of this country will make our population, will sit down, idly fold their hands and permit some 12,000,000 of a certain sect to dictate how they shall worship and how this country shall be governed, at the behest of the Pope of Rome.

THE sale of steel rails in March are estimated at 75,000 tons, the lower prices having brought many buyers into the market, and it is believed 50,000 tons have been booked this month. This is a larger business than it was supposed was being done. Prices have been lower, but no rails have been made or sold except at a profit this year.

BOSTON has long been renowned as a town in which queer things are said and done. One of the queerest of the afore-said queer things is described in our news dispatches to-day. It was the formal trial of a dog for his life before a city Judge. Dog lovers will rejoice that the canine defendant was triumphantly acquitted.

HARLAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, os in the Eastern part of the Virginia border, in the mountains. In it are most of the sources of the Cumberland River. Its county seat and largest town, Harlan Court House is a very small village. There is not a railway within twenty miles of the county line in any direction. It is a wild country. It does not surprise us to hear of wild doings there. Let us hope that the State troops will be found amply able to put down any rebellious outlaws there, and to cause the laws of the State of Kentucky to be fully enforced.

MONOPOLY WITHOUT GUILE.

There is a venerable gentleman in Washington known to one class of his admirers as Old Mother Hubbard, in the silver of whose beard scalding crocodile tears are ever sparkling. These are shed in never-ending streams over visions which he sees of oppressions by the Western Union Telegraph Company and the daily press of the country. He seems to think that an organization which enables all publishers of newspapers to furnish their readers with column after column of telegraphic news from every quarter of the earth for from three to five cents is a ruthless, crushing and blood-sucking monopoly.

And so this old gentleman with his guileless face haunts the committees of Congress year after year with obsolete contracts and stale statistics of the days when telegraph system was being developed, and sheds his tears, and bemoans the terrible inflictions of monopoly.

No one would suppose this sanctimonious old gentleman to be a very high priest of monopoly. Mr. Gardiner G. Hubbard is the professional mourner of the Bell Telephone Company. His daily business, and the source of his enormous revenue, is to sit in public places in Washington, and moan, and wring his hands, and weep over the extortions of the Western Union.

But in his daily denunciations of monopoly he never gives a hint that he is one of the chief Directors in a company which earns twenty-three and a half per cent. on a capital stock which is nine-tenths water and some of the rest wind. He says nothing of eighteen per cent. dividends which he has received or of a surplus of over $2,000,000 after nearly another million had been hidden in a corner called "general depreciation." Not he. For he is not that kind of a professional mourner. It is the sins of others, not his own, that move his heart. He says not a word of the regular charge of $14 a year to branch companies for rattle-box telephones which only cost $3.42 to manufacture, the cheapest and worst of several excellent patents. Mr. Hubbard has been as silent as the grave over the fact that at a meeting where he presided the Directors put in the plant of a branch office which cost $129,550 at a capitalized valuation of $3,894,300. And yet this genial and benevolent old gentleman, and professional mourner over the monopolies of telegraphs, while upholding and practicing and profiting by the giant electrical monopoly of the age, cries aloud day and night for cheap telegraphing,

The beam in his own eye is about the size of a switchboard in one of his largest exchanges. It is, therefore, not strange that he can not accurately measure the mote in the eye of the Western Union.

The Washington newspapers show him to be a pillar of that fashionable church where the Administration chiefly worships. He is, so to speak, one of the directors there. His contributions on public occasions are impressive. As he bows his venerable head in comfortable meditation thousands of telephone girls at three dollars a week are loading the quiet of Sabbath hours all over the land with "Hello, hello; number please." It is almost as sad a subject as the "Song of the Shirt" suggests. But because of this grinding of the poor a steady stream of dividends flows into the pockets of Brother Hubbard at a rate which makes a good showing for every second of time. Indeed, the income which flows in during one of the average prayers of Dr. Hamlin would go far toward supporting a foreign missionary station. But it is a part of the play that as these revenues wrung from the poor and made up also of inexcusable extortions from every rank of society come pouring in, Brother Hubbard shall parade his mourning and mild gnashing of teeth over the monopoly of telegraphing, which by the side of his giant monopoly becomes a full fledged benevolent institution.—Cin. Com. Gazette.

AMONG the Democratic members of the present Congress from this State only three are anywhere certain of a renomination, These are Brunger in the Ninth, Mutchler in the Eighth and Reilly in the Thirteenth. It is likely that Mutchler may have something of a contest. Both Buckalew of the Seventeenth and Kerr of the Twenty-eighth may be nominated, but they will have to fight pretty hard. In the Ninteenth District Maisch will be rotated out unless the Cumberland county Democrats make such a mess of things that the renomination of Maisch is the only way out.

KEEP WIT IN THE LINES.

The spirit shown by the several candidates for the Republican Gubernatorial nomiaation is the spirit that should actuate their followers and supporters. The one who secures the nomination will get the cordial and active support of every candidate now in the field. The judgment of the Convention will be accepted as the judgment of the Republican party, and nothing should be done to disturb the peace and harmony of the party, or interfere with the united support of its candidates.

It is not expected that all Republicans will have the same candidate for the nomination, and each member of the party is entitled to support whom he pleases and to urge the interests of his candidate by every fair and honest means in his power, It is a much more wholesome thing that these should be a number of candidates and a free field than that there shall be no contest at all because powerful influences may have made hopeful contest impossible, and practically determined the result before the canvass was fairly begun.

All that the Republicans of Pennsylvania want is a strict adherence to the party rules and a chance to name their own candidate for Governor and other officers. When that is done there is no excuse for dissatisfaction, and the party is certain to turn up one of those splendid results for which it has been distinguished for many years. No friend of the Republican party will talk about defeating any candidate who may be nominated by the party Convention, and while individual preference is commendable now all will be united in the support of the successful competitor in the Convention.

There is no candidate in the field whose nomination would not be thoroughly creditable to the party, who could not be supported with the full confidence that his election will put in the Executive chair a competent official and a representative Republican. There is no reason, then, for bitterness in the canvass, or threats of revolt, or action of any kind outside the party. This is not a time for anything suggestive of that. Not one of the candidates will have any sympathy with it, and any one who deserts the nominee of the Convention deserts the party itself.

Differences of opinion as to the proper candidate will be submitted to the State Convention, and the will of the majority there will be the will of all. The party provides that tribunal for that purpose, and its judgment will be respected.

THE death of ex-Governor Pollock, which is reported elsewhere, recalls a figure whose prominence in Pennsylvania politics of 40 years ago is so far a matter of the past as to be beyond the memory of most of the active men of the present day. As a Whig member of Congress Governor Pollock was the first advocate of a railroad to the Pacific. He was also the first Republican Governor of Pennsylvania. His retirement from active politics took place before the entrance into that field of most of the present leaders, and his old age has been spent in pleasant and honorable retrospect.

Scan Your Ten-Dollar Notes.

The Secret service Bureau was notified of the existence of a counterfeit $10 bill which is being extensively circulated in Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis. It purports to be a note of the Germania National Bank, of New Orleans. The workmanship is exceedingly fine, and the resemblance to the original is almost perfect. Close examination, however, shows that there is no fibre in the paper. This counterfeit has not yet been circulated here,

The above creates no concern in the editors mind. He never has any ten dollar bills.

THE New York Legislature has passed a law requiring every candidate to publish a sworn statement of his expenditure and those of his agents in the election, "directly or indirectly, by himself or through any other person, in aid of his election." Every State in the Union ought to have such a law, and its provisions ought to extend to every political, personal or party committee, large or small.—Philadelphia Press.

THE THIRD DISTRICT VACANCY.

The Democrats of the Third Congressional District, in this city, are going to have a time over the selection of a successor to the late Samuel J. Randall. It does not occur to them that the election of anybody but a Democrat is possible there, and there are quite a number of candidates of various sizes discussed for the nomination, although some of the names are doubtless used without authority. It is too early yet to indicate just how much common sense the esteemed enemy will display in its choice of a candidate.

If the Protection Democrats of the district are true to their faith no one advocating the Cleveland tariff policy can be elected. It is probable that the Democratic machinery of the district will be used, and doubtless effectively, to nominate some one whose views are antagonistic to those well known to have been held by Mr. Randall, but his election will be possible only through the entire forgetfulness of the principles held by Mr. Randall and his followers in the face of many obstacles and the bitterest opposition. The interests of the district are as strongly on the side of Protection as those of any Congressional district in the city.

There is not much hope, however, that the Democrats will adhere to the faith inculcated by Mr. Randall, and we are prepared to see his following go to pieces. The Democrats of the district, while voting solidly for Randall in 1888, gave their voters who can perform a feat like that, and it is pretty certain that the control of the district will now fall into the hands of those who were constantly at odds with Mr. Randall in his lifetime.

It was only by a species of gerrymander that seven of the eight Democratic wards of the city could be grouped together so as to make an assured Democratic district. This very arrangement furnished Governor Pattison one of his reasons for vetoing a Congressional apportionment bill passed during his term, A simpler and more convenient division would leave the Democrats without a single Congressional district in the city, and the new census, now soon to be taken, will make an early reapportionment necessary: There will be no room for Free-trade Congressmen from this city.—Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Edwin Tyson:

The Philipsburg Ledger has the following to say about the only man thus far announced as a candidate for the office of county treasurer:

"In another column in this paper, will be seen the official announcement of Mr. Edwin Tyson, for the nomination for Treasurer of Centre county on the Republican ticket. We think this step will meet with the unqualified approval of everybody who knows Mr. Tyson. It is not saying too much to say that a fitter man never aspired to the office of Wampum Keeper of Centre County. In him we find every attribute of clean, honest, upright successful manhood, free from shadow of stain, and entirely worthy of the confidence of his fellow citizens. In his honest hands the treasure of the county would be perfectly safe, and its financial affairs would be well and carefully administered. Mr. Tyson has been a citizen of Centre county for many years. He is well known everywhere within its borders, and we challenge any person in the county to offer any good reason why he should not be treasurer. Certainly a life of such unsullied purity deserves reward and we hope the Republicans will, without hesitation, make him their candidate for treasurer, feeling sure that his widespread acquaintance and popularity will bring him the majority of the suffrages of the voters, without any solicitation on his part."

Resolutions of Thanks.

At a regular meeting of Gregg Post No. 95 G. A. R. held on Monday night the 21st inst., the following resolution of thanks was offered by Commander Thos Donachy, Seconded by Commander Geo B Brandon with the amendment, that it be placed in the minutes of the Post, and published in the DAILY NEWS.

Resolved, That a unanimous vote of thanks of Gregg Post No. 95 G A R be, and is hereby tendered W. R. Teller, Esq., (late of the Bush House) for the gift of a picture of Libby Prison in Richmond, Va.

The picture was presented in behalf of the donor, by Commander H. H. Benner with some very appropriate remarks.

ASPIRING CANDIDATES.

Candidates for the nomination for the several offices to be filled the coming fall are looming up thick and fast, and for the office of County commissioner, especially, are they announcing themselves and asking the favorable consideration of the people. In this paper there are this week announced the names of five good men, as follows: John Decker, D. P. Shope, F. B. Stover, Henry Stevens and D. S. Dunham, all as candidates for the office of county commissioner, and all or any of whom are well fitted to fill the office. It only remains as a question of local strength as to which one will succeed in obtaining the nomination. They all have a certain claim on the office, so far as location is concerned, but we have not the least doubt that all will abide by the choice of the convention and heartily support the fortunate man.

For the office of County Treasurer there is only, so far one aspirant, Mr. E. Tyson, of Philipsburg, but he is such a good, worthy and able man that it is possible there will be no more. We would like to see our friend, Mr. Tyson, succeed in getting the nomination and, more than all, be elected.

EX-SPEAKER RANDALL has been laid to rest in the quiet of Laurel Hill Cemetery at Philadelphia. The question now will be as to the proper person to succeed him in Congress. That there will be a great scramble for the place there is little doubt, and many small politicians will be anxious to step into a big man's place. The district ought to be represented by a protectionist, but the free traders will no doubt make a big effort to put one of their kind in. Mr. Randall was kept in Congress because he was a protectionist, many Republicans voting for him. It would only be right and proper that a protectionist should succeed him. If no Democratic protectionist can be found, and the free traders succeed in capturing the nomination, the Randall Democrats and Republicans should unite and send a man to Congress who will fittingly represent the district. Such an one can be found and be elected.

THE Republicans of the House and Senate find it difficult to come together on the silver question. It is a knotty problem, and requires considerable research and study to arrive at a conclusion, but it is believed that some compromise of the diversified views will be effected and a bill be agreed upon that will pass both houses of Congress, The advocates of silver have been gaining strength the last few years, and the idea of the use of gold and silver and making them of equal purchasing power is one that will yet be obtained at no very distant day. We have the gold and silver in this country and we ought to make the best possible use out of both metals in our monetary affairs.

THE man who comes to this country takes the oath of allegiance and yet holds the Pope of Rome as his master is not the man who can be depended upon at all times and under all circumstances as a good citizen. This country provides a solid, substantial education for all who wish to avail themselves of the privilege. Such education is strictly American. Parochial shcools should be abolished by law. All our public institutions are open to visitation at any time. Catholic nunneries are and always have been closed against such visitations. They should be subject to visitations at any time the same as other institutions and those wishing to depart therefrom should be permitted to do so.

A Singular Warning.

Mr. A. P. Lucas, of this place, went out into the country on Monday to sell wire fencing, for which he is the agent. While working at his business down below Kylertown, he became impressed with a feeling that something had happened, and that he ought to go home. He tried to dismiss the feeling, but it clung to him and at last he yielded to the conviction and on Thursday morning started home. On his arrival he found a telegram announcing the death of his brother, Mr. J. P. Lucas, which occurred on Monday. The funeral took place on Wednesday. The dead man was a resident of Marsh Creek, this county. He was a married man about 40 years of age. If Mr. A. P. Lucas had obeyed the conviction of trouble and came home at once, he might have had the melancholy satisfaction of attending the funeral. He feels sorely troubled that he did not heed the singular warning.—Philipsburg Ledger.

There is fashion in canes as well as everything else. Big canes and crooked handles have gone out, and the present fancy is for canes tolerably slender and with a knob or other finish at the top.

According to recent figures, the people of this country are longer lived than those of Europe. In this country 18 persons out of every 1,000 die each year. In England the average is 20, and in Germany 26.

A doctor says a man 1 meter 80 centimeters (5 feet 11 inches) should weigh 80 kilograms, or 160 pounds. That is just as many kilograms as he measures centimeter in height.

An Englishman who insulated his bedstead by placing underneath each post a broken off bottle says he had not been free from rheumatism or gout for 15 years and that he began to improve immediately after the application of the insulators.

THE most disgraceful stain on what we call "civilization," is the fact that women are deprived of the right of suffrage, as if they were interior to men. Some of the most blatant shouters for "liberty for Russia," and "freedom for Ireland," are the bitterest opponents of giving women what God intended she should have—equality with man in every respect.

AMERICAN newspapers are already predicting that there won't be any international yacht race this summer because of the—well, let us call it prudence—of the British yachtsmen. Our relations on the other side of the big pond must wake up, throw aside some of their conservatism and send over a racer to try conclusions with our yachts, or else quit singing "Britannia rules the seas."

A CENTURY OF PROGRESS.

Only a century ago iron was produced to the extent of about 30,000 tons yearly; twenty years later the product was about 53,000 tons. Even Great Britain in 1788 produced only 68,300 tons—not so much as some furnaces in the United States now turn out yearly. The manufacture of steel is just beginning in the States; twenty years later only 917 tons were produced in the country. The coarsest pig iron then cost about as much as steel rails do now. Last year the American product of pig iron was 9,480,739 tons, and the highest price of best foundry pig iron was $21 a ton. The output of steel rails is, in round numbers, 1,350,000, and the best foundry pig $31.50. A single American railway now buys more iron than both Great Britain and the United States made a century ago. There were neither railways, iron bridges, nor buildings; no petroleum pipes, for there was no petroleum; no gas lights, for there was no gas-lighting even in Europe until later.

Washington lived in an age of darkness. Instead of an electric light the people had candles costing about two cents each, In all the departments and applications of chemistry the century has created a new world. American pressed glass, which has completely revolutionized the supply of table and house ware, is an invention of the last sixty years. Farmers in Washington's day knew nothing of machinery; even the first iron plow, patented in 1797, was a failure, for New Jerusalem farmers thought it poisoned the soil Mowers, reapers, and harvesters, began to be invented about the same time, and even ordinary implements were such as it would not now be thought possible to use. The steamboat was practically unknown, and the railway entirely unknown, until forty years later. The cost of transportation by wagon confined the area of possible production with profit, as to most crops, to the margin of navigable waters. In fact, the new world has been created in this century.

The Colonel and the Private.

Gov. Beaver is known by every Pittsburg boy in the National Guard to be a very strict disciplinarian in military etiquette and drill, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. Austin Curtin, of the Governor's native town told this war reminiscence about him last night to some of the delegates at the G A R Encampment: While Lieutenant-Colonel of the 45th regiment Beaver was one day sitting in front of his tent, when a slouchy-looking soldier with ill-fitting uniform came along, stopped, and inquired:

'Vere ish der doctor?'

'Is that the way to address your superior officer, sir?' roared Col. Beaver.

The German stared at his superior officer in blank amazement, but said never a word.

'Here, sir; take this chair. You be the Colonel, and I will teach you how to address an officer.'

"Vas me derr boss of der regiment?"

"Yes; take this chair, and I will show you how to act."

The soldier sat down in front of the tent. Col. Beaver walked off a few paces, turned about, returned to a position in front of the officer pro tempore, squared himself around, made a military salute, and inquired:

"Colonel, can you inform me where I can find the Surgeon of the regiment?"

The soldier arose, and, looking seriously and straight at Beaver, replied:

"D—d if I know where he is!"

Thumped Him for a Fool.

James Welch, of Middletown, Conn., having been told that the force of a dynamite explosion was downward, made a practical test of this principle a few days ago by boring a big hole into a monstrous gnarled log, into which he put a lot of dynamite, ignited a short-time fuse and carelessly sat down astride one end of the log. Soon Welch and the log ascended in a curve about 30 feet. In the descent the position of the couple was reversed. Welch arrived at earth first, the log followed, and Welch says it thumped him several times after he was down.

And Indian waited for a train at a Northern Pacific station in Idaho, and while there saw the agent talking into a telephone box.

'Umph,' said the Indian. 'Who you talk to?'

'I'm talking to a man,' said the agent

'Heap little man if him live in there, said the buck.

How to Kill a Town.

Buy of peddlars as much and as often as possible.

Never pay your papers a cent for advertising.

Denounce your merchants because they make a profit on their goods.

Glory in the fall of a man who has done much to build up the town.

Make your town out as the worst place morally, and stab it every chance you get.

Refuse to unite in every scheme for the betterment of your town and the material interests of your people.

If a stranger comes to town tell him that everything is overdone and predict a general crash in the future.

Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own then denounce them for not being as cheap as the city papers.

When you have something to say about your town, say it in such a manner as to leave the impression that you have no faith in it.

Never on account speak a good word for your merchants, ministers, teachers, schools, newspapers, or anybody or anything else.

If you are a merchant don't advertise in your home paper, but buy a rubber stamp and use that—it may save you a few dimes and make the paper look as if it was published in a one-horse town and give the place a black eye.

His Moneys worth.

"Vell, I vas gone off und get married, but dose tings cost me more as forty dollars."

"I hope, Jacob, your expense has not been in vain."

"Ah, no! I gets my money's wort, Mine wife veighs more as two hundret pounds."

Unconscious Truth.

Teacher—Tommy, what is the next letter after X?

Tommy—W'y——

Teacher correct!

And Tommy sat down in a state of mild amazement.

Easier Said Than Done.

Patient—I say, doctor, what sort of a lump is this on the back of my neck?

Doctor—It is nothing serious; but I would advise you, nevertheless, to keep your eye on it,

CRAZED BY JEALOUSY.

A Frantic Mother's Fearful Method of Revenge.

SLASHED WITH A DAGGER.

She Runs Up Behind Her Rival, Grasps Her Around the Neck, Gashes Her Eyes and Face with a Knife and Drops Her Bleeding to Death.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Carlo Pompanello, a curled and perfumed dandefied barber, met pretty little Massuzzah Derotto a few years ago, when she had just come from Sicily with her blind father. He fell madly in love with her and the two became engaged to be married. She pleaded and pleaded with him to make her his wife, but he always put the affair off on one pretext or another. Last week the poor girl went to him with her two babies and begged him with tears streaming from her eyes, and pointing to the pinched and hungry faces of the little ones, to marry her and support the children.

Then it was that Carlo told the poor girl that he was already married and that she would have to take care of herself. She left him, stunned and sick at heart, her brain whirling madly and straining her unfortunate little ones to her breast. That night she saw Carlo pass the door of the hovel where she lived arm in arm with an Italian girl named Rosetta Lanta, whom she supposed to be the woman who supplanted her. This infuriated her. She gave one of her babies to a woman she knew in Brooklyn to mind for her and the other she kept herself.

Determined on Revenge.

The girl-mother determined upon revenge. She prepared a steel case knife till it was like a dagger, and carried it in her pocket day by day, waiting for the opportunity of its use. At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, while walking with her baby in her arms, she met Rozetta Lanta. The latter turned her head and walked on. Massuzzah set her baby down in a doorway and, drawing her knife, ran back.

She threw her arm around Rozetta's neck and with the declaration in Italian, "I will disfigure you so that you can no longer be loved," drew the sharp blade across Rozetta's face, sinking the knife to the bone. One stroke passed over Rozetta's left eye, probably destroying that organ, and the other split her right cheek to the teeth.

Rozetta fell shrieking to the walk, over which her blood gushed in great streams. Massuzzah, ablaze with rage and triumph, stood over her a moment brandishing her knife, declaiming in rapid Italian words. Then she ran back, picked up her baby and walked to Elizabeth street and down that thoroughfare, followed by a great crowd.

She supported her child upon her left arm and in her right held the bloody knife, with which she menaced the crowd, so that none dared touch her.

Bleeding to Death.

Rozetta was picked up fast bleeding to death, as the knife had cleft her cheek from the roots of her hair to her throat and laid the flesh wide open. She was carried into a drug store and thence in an ambulance to St. Vincent's hospital.

Patrolman John Foley was called off his beat on Elizabeth street and entered the house at No. 235, into which Massuzzah had gone. After a long search he found her under a bed with her baby in a room on an upper floor. She was very much excited.

She was taken at once to the Tombs police court and arraigned. The judge held her in $2,000 to await the result of Rozetta's wounds. The hospital surgeons say that the wounded girl may die, and, at all events, is shockingly disfigured for life. Massuzzah wears a smile of satisfaction and strains her baby to her breast in her cell. She says that she has not a friend in the city and does not care.

Shot Her Lover.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 23.—About 12:30 o'clock Tuesday morning Lizzie Dear, a handsome girl of 23 years, was walking with Joseph Kearney, son of William Kearney, the brewer, when she drew a revolver and shot him twice in the head. He was found to be dangerously injured. Kearney had been keeping company with the Dear girl for some time, and it is supposed she shot him on account of jealousy of another girl. Miss Dear, who was found about 1 o'clock apparently asleep at her home, denied having met Kearney since last Thursday and declares that she did not shoot him. Kearney in his ante-mortem statement swears that she did the shooting.

Panic at a Bull Fight.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 23.—At the conclusion of a bull fight at Guadalajara a section of the amphitheatre collapsed, precipitating thousands of spectators to the ground. The scene which followed was terrible. Those who had not been hurt by the fall trampled over the hundreds of bruised and injured, intensifying their sufferings. The police, with the aid of the uninjured spectators, succeeded in rescuing the wounded from under the debris. While no deaths are reported, many persons have received injuries which may prove fatal.

Father McKenna Resigns.

BOSTON, April 23.—Rev. P. A. McKenna has resigned the position of national vice president of the Irish National league. He says he will not submit to the leadership of assassins. He protests against the letter of Dr. O'Reilly to Dillon, and says O'Reilly is a Clan-na-Gael man. McKenna does not believe in Clan-na-Gael methods. He denies O'Reilly's statement that the St. Louis meeting represented every state, and says the National league has no existence in this country at the present time.

Deliberately Shot.

PORTLAND, Me., April 23.—While William M. Look, aged 20, was entering W. H. Winslow & Co.'s furniture shop to go to work, he was deliberately shot in the back by Philip Cuskley, aged 25, an employe of the same firm. The men had a quarrel last winter, but the trouble had apparently been adjusted. Cuskley immediately gave himself up. He has a bad temper and is of a troublesome nature. Both are unmarried, and Look will probably die.

Ex-Mayor Colby Found Dead.

FITCHBURG, Mass., April 23.—Ex-Mayor Eli Colby went out Monday morning for the first time after a long illness. He drove off alone, declining company. At 11 a. m. his carriage was found in the road without an occupant. Search was made, and at 12:50 o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. Colby's dead body was found near the brink of Scott reservoir, in the outskirts of the city. His illness was an affection of the brain.

A TRAIN DITCHED.

Six Passengers Injured—A Young Lady Rescues a Child.

CAIRO, Ills., April 23.—The north bound passenger train on the St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas railroad was ditched Tuesday morning near Hibbard, eighteen miles below here, and six of the twenty-three passengers were injured, but none fatally. An unlocked switch was the cause. The mail, baggage and express cars and two coaches left the rails and turned over on their sides into a pool of water about two feet deep. A construction gang near by succeeded in quenching the fire, which broke out in a passenger coach.

The injured were: Mrs. J. M. Hubbard of Ballard, Mo., bruised; son of Mrs. Hubbard, 9 years old, foot mashed; Mrs. J. M. Parks, Crab Orchard, Ills., fracture of right arm; J. C. Dennis and wife, Steelville, Ills., an aged couple, badly bruised; sister-in-law of J. W. Fox, the division superintendent of the road, nearly suffocated by smoke, but uninjured; a daughter of Mrs. Hubbard, 3 years old, narrowly escaped downing, being rescued by Miss Kate Parks, who dashed into the water and rescued the child.

THE CITY FLOODED.

Bayou Sara Inundated and Not a House Has Escaped.

BAYOU SARA, La., April 23.—After a most heroic struggle to save the city from the flood a surrender was made to the great father of waters at 12:30 a. m. Tuesday. At that hour the guards reported that the levee had given way at the foot of Fountain street. A general alarm was sounded and the people responded promptly to the call. The break was closed, but on examination it was found that the rising river was running over the front levee.

Every impromptu boat and raft was brought into requisition. Lanterns could be seen everywhere, and the cries of men, women and children attempting to save their effects were heard on every side. Not a house in town has escaped. The beautiful Fisher building, the home of Mayor Irvine, supposed to be the highest point in town, is flooded.

Nothing but chaos and destruction meet the eye. It is raining hard. The Taylor levee has given way, and the Fanny Yoon crevasse will probably prove a very serious one. The large levees from the last accounts are intact, but things look critical.

They Will Resist the French.

BOSTON, April 23.—A private dispatch from St. Johns, N. F., says: "The people here are still much excited over the imperial government's outrageous concessions to French fishermen on our coast. Native fishermen are arming and will resist a French advance. Delegates have started for England, Canada and the United States, who will solicit for the colony the moral support of press and people. A strong and earnest annexation feeling pervades the community. The governor and the local government are much blamed for the present state of affairs. The premier is openly charged with betraying the country."

Inaugurated Acting Governor.

CONCORD, N. H., April 23.—Hon. David A. Taggart, president of the state senate, was appropriately inaugurated as acting governor by the executive council, and will perform the gubernatorial duties during the absence of Governor Goodell, who is incapacitated by sickness. This is the first time in the history of the state since 1784 that the president of the senate has been called upon to discharge the duties of governor.

He Was a Good Seller.

WHEATLAND, Cal., April 23.—Detective Bradshaw, of Iowa, has arrested Aaron Smith, of Des Moines, Ia., on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Smith is accused of having sold the same live stock to four different parties in Des Moines. He received $1,100 discount on the notes given him in payment, and with these funds brought his family to this state.

Want Sullivan and Jackson.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—At the meeting of the members of the California Athletic club an informal decision was reached to match Sullivan and Jackson for a purse of $30,000. No agreement when the fight will take place was arrived at, but five or six months hence seemed to be the prevailing opinion. The proposition will be formally brought before the club.

Cut His Foot Off.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 23.—Duncan McLachlan, aged 35, a prominent resident of Groton, while attempting to cross the Southern Central track in that village caught his foot in the space between the rail and planking, and before he could extricate it a train came along and cut the foot off.

He Fell from the Boat.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., April 23.—Joseph Twing, of Sandisfield, while fishing in Spectacle pond with two companions was seized with a fit, fell backward from the boat and was drowned. The body was recovered.

Sentenced to Be Shot.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 23.—It is stated that Col. Schmidt, who sold the plans of the fortress at Cronstadt, has been sentenced to be shot.

Classifying Woolens.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The house committee on ways and means ordered a favorable report, which was made in the house by Mr. Dingley, of Maine, on a bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to classify as woolen cloths all imports of worsted cloth, whether known under the name of worsteds, diagonals, or otherwise.

The Fair Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The house has concurred in the senate amendments to the World's fair bill, and the bill, having passed both houses, goes to the president for action.

WASHINGTON EVENTS.

Secretary Rusk Issues an Address to the Farmers.

THEY MUST BE PROTECTED.

He Advises Them to Stand as Firm as the Everlasting Hills for Their Rights. Other Interests Must Stand Aside—Fair Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—J. M. Rusk, secretary of the department of agriculture, has issued an address to the farmers of the country on agricultural depression, its causes and possible remedies. The causes he divides into two classes—those inherent to the framers themselves, and for which they alone can provide a possible remedy, and those over which the farmer has no direct control, the remedy for which must be provided by law by the legislative bodies of the states and of the nation. He tells the farmers that they are often too unbusinesslike in their methods, and says the successful one must be the equal in intelligence and education of the storekeeper. Many farmers, he says, are land greedy and hold more land than they can properly work. The prudent farmer will only hold what he can profitably work, and will raise everything that can be utilized by himself and his household as far as soil and climate will permit.

SECRETARY RUSK.

Farm Mortgages.

Secretary Rusk deplores the prevalence of farm mortgages and the difficulty of raising them, but says that the currency legislation now being discussed in congress may solve this vexed problem; he deprecates the middle man and recommends cooperation by the farmers both in disposal of crops and purchase of supplies; he asserts that boards of trade have evoluted into vast gambling places and should be abolished by law, and that the existence of unlawful combinations to control farm products and lower their price, and raise the price of articles which farmers consume, should be dealt with by national legislation.

Must Stand Firm.

The secretary asserts that there is a wonderful increase in the imports of farm products and a steady decrease in the prices of home grown products, and the cause is that there has grown up a ruinous competition in which the pauper of Europe, the miserable fellah of Egypt and the half starved Indian ryot, all working for pauper wages, are pitted against the American farmer, who pays fair wages and gives his help the same food and shelter as he gives his own family; and the remedy suggested by Mr. Rusk is a wise application of our admirable protective system, that all the benefits of our home markets may be secured to the American farmer for everything that he may be able to produce.

Mr. Rusk closes by assuring the farmers that his personal sympathies are with them, advises them to stand as firm as the everlasting hills for their rights, and asserts that if necessary every other interest must be prepared to stand aside in favor of measures looking to the relief of agricultural depression.

Naval Affairs.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The house committee on naval affairs ordered a favorable report on the bills refunding the penalties exacted from the Columbia Iron works, of Baltimore, for failure to finish the gunboat Petrel, and from the Union Iron works, of San Francisco, for failure to finish the cruiser Charleston within the contract time.

The committee also ordered a favorable report on a bill which has passed the senate to amend the revised statutes in regard to the naming of naval vessels. The committee amended the senate bill. As amended it provides that the vessels of the navy shall be divided into four classes, and shall be commanded as nearly as possible as follows: First and second rates by captains, third rates by commanders, and fourth rates by lieutenant commanders and lieutenants. It is also provided that vessels of the first rate shall be named after states of the Union; second rates after citizens; third rates after important naval events, and fourth rates after lakes and rivers in the United States.

Presidential Nominations.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The president sent to the senate today the following nominations: John C. Fremont, of New York, to be a major general, United States army, on the retired list; John T. Ensnor, of Maryland, to be attorney of the United States for the district of Maryland; William F. Airey, of Maryland, to be marshal of the United States for the district of Maryland.

Two Men Drowned.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 23.—John Beekman and Elisha Dyer, of Hammondsport, were drowned off Two Mile Point, Keuka lake.

Lippincott's Magazine is showing remarkable enterprise in securing all the greatest novelists at home and abroad to contribute to its pages. The May number contains a novelette by Bret Harte entitled "A Sappho of Green Springs." That Mr. Harte's residence abroad has not dulled his genius for depicting Western scences and character is abundantly proven by his latest story, which is one of the brightest and cleverest products of his brilliant pen.

BONNER.

All persons interested in improving the blood of their horses should call at the Brockerhoff House stables and see the trottingbred horse Bonner. His proprietors intend to have him kept for service. The pedigree of this horse as authentically traced is as follows:

The sire of Bonner was by Knickerbocker, whose sire was Rysdeckes Hambletonian, and the dam of Bonner's sire was by Messenger. The dam of Bonner was a Vermont Morgan whose dam was a Starr mare.

These horses are all world renowned as every intelligent horseman knows. The dam of Bonner trotted in 2.40 at the age of 22 years.

This horse has always been kept for service. However after one week's training upon the track, at Lewisburg he trotted in 2.58 and competent judges declare that if properly handled he would be trotting in the teens.

Bonner is a mahogony bay, will be 9 years old in May, and weighs 1000 lbs. He has bred colts that weigh 1400 lbs. and he has lighter offspring that are very promising for roading and for speed. f-20-3m

'STARTLE"

The proprietors of Bonner have also purchased Startle.

Startle is a light colored chestnut bay; he will be 5 years old in May and is sired by Bonner. His dam was a dark chestnut sorrel by Gold Dust, and his grand dam was of the Justin Morgan stock of horses.

Startle will also be kept for service and can be seen at the Brockerhoff House stables.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.

YOUR BACK YARD.

With the oncoming of spring, and the general awakening to new life in nature, there comes, as by a similar instinct, this same spirit of renovation to the housekeeping fraternity. It is doubtful what would become of the world but for these periodic "clearin' up" times—be smothered possibly in the accumulation of dirt and rubbish!

There are few housekeepers who do not clean house, or at least go through the motions, but there are quite a number that make no pretense of cleaning their yards, or at least their back yards. And, pray, what is more disgusting and suggestive of the uncanny alleys of the cities than old cans, rags, ash and garbage heaps and other trash in a back yard!

We don't want to say it right out loud, because it would hurt some one's feelings, but still it is a fact that no good housekeeper will ever have such a yard. She will never throw her old cans, vegetable refuse, egg shells, etc., out at the door nor sweep her dirt out nor, indeed, have anything disfiguring or unsightly at the rear of her home any sooner than in front of it.

But if any sister housewife has not had due regard for this part of spring cleaning, let her by all means awake to the necessity for health's sake, if not for that of comfort and decency. There are enough germs of disease in some folks' back yards, streaming with filth, to inoculate a neighborhood. Don't forget this fact, my careless sister.

Then try to have a little pride in your back door and yard. I have in mine—pardon me for being personal and can't bear to see even a stick, bone, string or anything savoring of slovenliness there. I can brook a topsy-turvy centre table and dust inside better than this.

But, says my awakened friend, as for the first time she really drinks in the unsightly landscape from her kitchen window—tall bleached weeds and burdocks, bent by winter's snow; old pails, broken chairs, mop handles, remnants of carpets and clothing, with filth and disorder everywhere—"how can I avoid this? what shall I do with all these things?

And I dare say there are many inexperienced ones who are at a loss to know how to keep their back door premises tidy and inviting.

To such I would say, you must first of all be resolved to be neat here, and this is the main thing: you will then be on your guard against tossing everything out of the back door. You will throw your old cans into some hole or ditch or have them carted off with your ashes, you will burn your garbage if you have nothing to feed it to or no swill man; you will be conscientious about sweeping your dirt over the threshold, always burning it instead; old garments will swell the rag man's stock and decrepit furniture be forthwith converted into kindling wood or repaired; your coffee dregs will, if thrown out, never be emptied in one place till the grass is ashamed to lift its head, but so scattered as to leave no visible trace, while the egg shells used to settle it are always put in the stove; tea grounds and dish water are likewise never allowed to make bald spots!

What do you say, readers, to getting up a little wholesome, good natured strife with our neighbor about this back door and yard business? Wouldn't it raise a higher standard and improve our sanitary condition?

Let us see if a bed of pansies or verbenas wouldn't rest our eyes and lift our thoughts better than that which is seen in too many back yards.

Fire at Millmont.

On Monday evening about 6 o'clock, the box factory at Millmont, on the line of the Lewisburg railroad, owned by Smith & Cauley, caught fire in the engine room and, notwithstanding the exertions of those present, was entirely consumed. The loss will be about $7,000 which there was $3,500 insurance. It is likely the factory will be rebuilt. It was only by tremendous hard labor that djoining dwelling houses, store and church were saved.

Cheering Words.

With yesterday's issue the Bellefonte DAILY NEWS entered its eleventh year. It is a bright and newsy sheet, and we hope its future usefulness may be fully appreciated by the people of Centre county:—Altoona Loyal American:

The Bellefonte DAILY NEWS yesterday entered upon its eleventh year. The NEWS is one of our most welcome visitors and is an exceptionably readable newspaper. Bellefonte should be proud of it, and should accord it liberal support.—Tyrone Herald.

The Bellefonte DAILY NEWS has just completed the tenth year of its existence, and enters upon a new volume under very favorable prospects. The NEWS is a good paper, and ought to have a generous support from the people of Bellefonte:—Philipsburg Journal.

That sprightly little daily the Bellefonte NEWS, has just entered upon the eleventh year of its existence, and although it is probably not making a fortune for its proprietor, it is nevertheless keeping up with the procession in a manner creditable to itself and no doubt satisfactory to its readers. Long may it live, prosper and grow in size, influence and finances.—Altoona Times.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.

An English View of the Pennsylvania Limited.

The London Railway Times says: The railway journey between New York and Chicago is somewhat less than one thousand miles. One train each way makes the run over the Pennsylvania Railroads lines in twenty-four hours, and that is practically the fastest railway traveling known in the United States. But while speed is not remarkably high, there are various comforts of an unusual character which may tend to while away the tedium of the trip. A traveler sends this description of the luxuries enjoyed, and he did not write it himself, but dictated it to an official whose services are at command on the train: "A stenographer using a typewriter is the latest addition to this wonderful train. A ladies' waiting maid preceded him. We may now consider it about complete. Of course you know there is a barber, and lighting by electricity. In the observation car we are supplied with the leading daily papers, with the Government Weather Bureau reports. Financial quotations of the market are brought in as we proceed; These are indispensible to the ordinary American. He does not wish to be many minutes out of the reach of the markets during business hours." The observation car is in the rear of the train but it seems to be less used for sight-seeing than as a reading-room. About a century hence a train de luxe of this description may be heard of on the continent making the journey from Paris to Pekin. Journeys in this country are too short to warrant our companies venturing upon the experiment rashly:

Oh, Belva!

Belva Lockwood, the distinguished orator and queen of the American bar, who was nominated for President of the United States, will appear in the Court House under the auspices of the graduating class, Bellefonte High school, and for the benefit of the library of said school, on Tuesday evening April 29th, 1890, in her charming lecture, "Is Marriage a Failure? No, sir" Belva Lockwood is undoubtedly the best known and most famous woman in the United States to-day. The Pittsburg Dispatch says: Mrs. Belva Lockwood, the distinguished Washington female lawyer and candidate for the Presidency in the last election, talked 200 words a minute for two straight hours last night, but they were words full of good sense and sparkling with wit. The Fifth U. P. church, Irwin avenue, Allegheny, was filled to its utmost capacity long before the speaker, elegantly attired, took her position on the altar. She is an elderly lady, with a handsome, distinguished face and silver gray hair, Mrs. Lockwood talked of the great men of the present and past, of their political schemes, of great scenes in Washington's history, of lobbyists, of the numerous bills which are being introduced and never reached, and of the plan of the Government spending money instead of practicing strict economy. She alluded to the contest for social supremacy among the official ladies, and closed with a description of the society of the different administrations. When she finished, the audience, which had been attentive to every word, made the room ring with applause.—The Pittsburg Dispatch.

In the Spring

The feeling of lassitude peculiar to the season begins to be felt. The average stock of vitality has been pretty thoroughly exhausted in carrying its possessor through the rigors and changes of the trying winter, and as the more genial season approaches and the strain upon the system relaxes a feeling of prostration, more or less pronounced in degree and duration, is the natural and inevitable result. During the existence of this feeling of lassitude and depression, business cares and exertions seem almost impossible of endurance, and even the lightest duties and responsibilities of life are regarded as a burden to be shirked or disregarded to the greatest possible extent.

If You are Wise

To devise some preparation to counteract this tired feeling and restore the system to something like a normal condition has been the endeavor of many people more or less skilled in medical science, and countless concoctions under the general title of "spring medicine" have been placed upon the market, had a brief boon and then been lost sight of, to be succeeded by some other similar preparation. The principal ingredient in most of the spring "bitters," "tonics," etc., alcohol, the effect of which upon the human system has been sufficiently dwelt upon through various public mediums to render any extended reference to the same unnecessary here. The temporary feeling of strength and exhileration produced by this active agent is as certainly followed by a greater degree of depression, while the results of continued indulgence are a permanent impairment of the vital organs—the heart, kidneys, liver and brain.

The facts of the case are that you have been living upon meat and other fatty substances to a greater extent than at any other time of the year; the pores of the skin have been closed, and upon the kidneys and liver have devolved all the work of keeping the system clear. But now summer is at hand, and these organs cannot keep up the drain. The pores of the skin must be open, else disease will step in and throw you upon a bed of sickness. If the pores be but partly open, then you are languid, lazy and ill at ease. You want a spring cleaning process within yourself, and then you will be filled with vigor and a zest for work and business. You can have all accomplished by the use of

A complete wreck of domestic happiness has often resulted from badly washed dishes, from an unclean kitchen, or from trifles which seemed light as air. Presbytery on Temperance.

The following resolutions were adopted at the meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery at Mifflintown on April 9th, 1890:

Resolved, That the Presbytery recommends to ministers and congregations to persevere in their efforts to promote the cause of temperance by all legitimate methods.

Resolved, That members of our churches be recommended and urged to persevere in vigorous efforts to secure entire prohibition of the liquor traffic which is the prolific source of pauperism, crime, taxation, grief and ruin to the bodies and souls of men.

Resolved, That members be recommended to do all in their power to secure the election to public offices, especially to the judiciary, of able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness, and who will do all they can legitimately to prohibit the liquor traffic.

Resolved, That the Presbytery cordially commends the earnest, enthusiastic and efficient labors of the ladies of the W C T U in behalf of the cause of temperance and prays that the blessing of God may rest abundantly upon their efforts.

Resolved, That we declare all licensing of the sale of intoxicants as a bevergage, whether it be high or low, as a grievous evil and the great barrier to the prohibition of the traffic.

"Silent partner."

Be True to Your Friends.

Never forsake a friend. When enemies gather around, when sickness falls on the heart, when the world is dark and cheerless, it is time to try true friendship. The heart that has been touched with true gold will redouble its efforts when the friend is sad and is in trouble. Adversity tries real friendship. Those who turn from the scene of distress betray their hypocrisy and prove that interest only moves them. If you have a friend that loves you, who has studied your interest and happiness, be sure to sustain him in adversity. Let him feel that his love was not thrown away.

Alphabetical—Crush a letter of the alphabet—oh, how sorrowful it becomes! Set fire to it, and its joy knows no bounds. Cut it in halves, and you have lost it forever. Answer; D-pressed, d-lighted, d-parted.

He (somewhat suspiciously)—'You say you never loved anybody but me? Ha! Is that true, Maud?' She—'Harry, your looks terrify me! Have—have I been too bold in letting you kiss me so much this evening?' He—'No, Maud, but you kiss like an old hand.'

SAMUEL J. RANDALL.

The death of Samuel J. Randall removes from the public stage one of our best known and most honered representatives. For fourteen consecutive terms he has been elected to Congress, and twice was Speaker of that body. He dies the "Father of the House," and falls amid tributes of universal respect. In intellectual greatness he did not appreach the front rank. No speech did he make which will live nor a thought uttered which will receive the homage of common quotation. He had added nothing to speculative thought in politics or placed an important law on the statute book which bears his name. His strength was found in all the manly virtues—honesty, sincerity, courage and fidelity to friends. Mr. Randall was always a moral force in our political life. In the midst of avarice and corruption, it can be said of him as Phillips said of Pitt: "He stood alone. Modern degeneracy had not reached him." No man lives in vain who shows the world the strength and value of character and the courage of honest conviction. Whether marching as a private in the defense of his country, voting appropriations to carry on the war, opposing free trade bills and free trade platforms of our party, Mr. Randall gained strength by sheer moral supremacy. He was a partisan in details and above it when great interests were at stake. It is true he had the sentiment of a State behind him, but this was not the reason he opposed Mills, Carlisle and others on economic questions. His convictions were inherited and confirmed by a constant line of thought in one direction. He was a product of Whig thought and the philosophy of Henry C. Carey. So he opposed the Mills tariff bill, not because he was a Pennsylvanian, but because he was an Ameri an. Mr. Randall was a democrat by instinct. He was simple in his tastes and inclinations, and believed in the power and wisdom of majorities. All men love the courage of conviction and the sympathy of pronounced leadership Henry Clay was a leader through his personality, Webster a respected oracle through the towering weight of his splendid intellect. If Randall had less of the winsomeness and eloquence of Clay, he had the personal characteristics in other regards of the Kentucky leader which made him a dominant force in public affairs. Mr. Randall was greater in opposition than at the head of a majority. It is always easier to criticise and object than to inaugurate. Mr. Randall had no special constructive faculties, but he could stand at bay and fight gloriously and successfully as the leader of an opposition. The Force bill is an illustration of his pugnacity. But he is not entitled to all the credit of defeating this bill. Mr. Blaine was opposed to it, and was Speaker of the House. The tact of the great Maine statesman came to the aid of Mr. Randall, and a bill grown out of passion and party necessity was laid on the table with no hope of a resurrection.

The lesson of Mr. Randall's life is not one to encourage ambition in political strife, but gives the enduring example that honesty is mightier than brains, and courage more potent than brilliancy. Mr. Randall has paid a tribute to the best in human nature and his course has enabled the ideal of our political life. He has not lived in vain, and his example in all the higher virtues is his epitaph and the legacy he leaves his country.

Nature in Convulsion.

Is terrific. Volcanic eruptions, cyclones earthquakes are awfully and tremendously picturesque, but scarcely desirable to emulate in action and effect by the administration of remedies which produce convulsion and agony in the abnormal portion of the human frame. Such is the effect of the old fashioned violent purgatives happily falling more and more into disuse, and of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the wholesome, pleasant and far more effective succedaneum. They weakened the intestines—the Bitters invigorates them. They left the bowels inactive, because incapacitated by ensuing feebleness. The Bitters, on the contrary, and because it enables, not forces, them to act—a vast and fortunate difference—prepetuates their activity ane regularity. The liver is beneficially stimulated, as the kidneys also are, by this medicine, which easily conquers, also, malaria, nervousness and rheumatism.

Lutheran Conference.

The Northern Conference of the Lutheran Evangelical Synod of Central Pennsylvania will convene at Centre Hall, Tuesday evening, April 29, and continue to Thursday evening, May 1. The opening sermon will be preached by the president, Rev. A. K. Felton.

Doctor—'You see, wifey dear. I have pulled my patient through, after all! A very critical case, I can tell you.' 'Yes, dear hubby; but then you are such an excellent physician! Ah! if I had only known you five years earlier, I feel certain my first husband—Thomas—would have been saved!'

Force of habit.—Doctor (after the railroad accident)—"Are you much hurt?" Railroad Official (faintly)—"I must positively decline to furnish any information.

NATURAL GAS OR KEROSENE.

The Consolidated Gas Company Sinking a Well in Bellefonte.

It has always been supposed that oil could be found in Centre county but nobody ever dreamed of its being located beneath the earth's surface on which stands some of the stateliest buildings of Bellefonte, and yet at this very time the consolidated Oil Company ($10 a share until the 25th of April, after that they will go up,) is drilling a hole in the cellar of Harris' hardware store.

Mr. James Harris, we believe, is the president of the new Company, and it was mainly through him that it was organized. The stock is now on the market—floating yet, but no telling just how soon it may sink. In New York stock exchange the Bears had the bulge on it yesterday but we understand they are being driven to the wall by the Bulls to-day. It is about the most active stock that has been on the market for some time, and we venture to say it is not half so active as the oil will be when struck in the Consolidated Company's well.

Mr. James Harris is very enthusiastic and takes great pleasure in devoting his time to showing and explaining the affair to all the curious ones who desire to know all about it. Mr. Harris says that he is satisfied that oil can be struck any place if you only go deep enough. It is expected that oil will be struck at Harris' cellar well on Monday about noon. All who desire to see the first gush will please be on the ground at that time. We almost forgot to state the capital already invested is something less than half a million.

AGRICULTURAL

Wood ashes are excellent on all kinds of vegetables. The stalks and leaves of potatoes abound largely in potash, as do also the leaves of beets. Though ashes contain no nitrogen, they supply not only potash but lime and a proportion of phosphoric acid.

While aiming to prodnce good butter do not forget that one of the most important essentials is the purity of the salt. Butter may be injured by salt, and as no mineral is more difficult to rid of impurities than salt extra care should be exercised in securing the best to be obtained.

A correspondent of the Pittsburg Stockman gives an important remedy for hog cholera, if he is not mistaken in the disease. Finding several hogs dead, and others dying, he administered kerosene and milk, the result being a complete recovery of the sick animals, with no further spread of the disease. The cures were immediate.

A French scientist states that his experiments show the colors of growing plants to indicate the presence of complete plant food. When the soil is lacking in nitrogen and the mineral elements the color of the leaves of the plants are yellow. Light green color shows a deficiency of some particular substance, and deep green indicates that the plants are particularly supplied with nitrogen, lime, potash and phosphoric acid.

Bellefonte Spring.

There is nothing we could say that would further impress upon the minds of the citizens of Bellefonte the almost priceless value of the Big Spring, as everybody that lives here or has ever lived here knows that if there is one treasure Bellefonte has it is that spring. But we do want to remark that Superintendent of Water Department, Samuel Ryan, deserves considerable credit for the good condition in which he keeps the spring. He has just lately given it a thorough cleaning and straightened up the banks. Now he intends to cover the banks and about eight feet in the water all round the spring with crushed limestone. He will also put a gravel walk around the spring and fix it up in general. Then he intends painting the pump house, fence, etc., and it won't be long until Bellefonte will have one of the handsomest water works of any town in Central Pennsylvania.

A Ripe Old Age.

We copy the following from Wednesday's Tyrone Herald. The lady is well known throughout Centre county:

It was a happy party that gethered at the home of Mrs. Joseph Henderson yesterday to celebrate the ninety-eighth birthday of that lady's mother, Mrs. Jane Mays, the oldest resident of this vicinity. All of her surviving children were present. They are: Mrs Benjamin Dugan, of Newry; Mrs Joseph Henderson, of Tyrone; Mrs Sarah Goss, of Clearfield; and William Mays, of Osceola. A number of her grand-children and great-grand-children were also present.

Mrs. Mays was born in Huntingdon county, the fifteenth day of April, 1792, and now when only two years short of the century mark, she is as hale and hearty as many a person thirty or forty years younger. She reads without the assistance of spectacles, sews neatly, and last summer she made jelly. Her memory is excellent. Last evening she recalled vividly the story of the hanging of James Monks at Bellefonte in 1819, which has been rehearsed lately in the papers in connection with accounts of recent executions in Centre county. In fact she is a remarkable old lady, and she bids fair to live many years yet.

She now holds the proud position of looking upon a large posterity. Besides having four living children, she is the grandmother of fifty-one and the great-grandmother of eighty; and she has one great great grandchild. Therefore in this family five generations have living representatives. Mrs. Mays was the recipient of many congratulations from her friends yesterday, and they all unite in wishing her many more years of a peaceful and happy life.

Two Instantly Killed.

Special to the Altoona Tribune.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., April 16.—This morning shortly after 6 o'clock three Polanders, who were walking on the Pennsylvania railroad track near Union Furnace, were struck by an eastbound freight and two of the men were instantly killed, the third escaping with very serious injuries. Yesterday an unknown tramp was killed at the same place in a precisely similar manner. The names of the two Polanders who were killed to day were Joseph Rusnoskie, aged 25 years, of Plymouth, Luzerne county, and Antoin Akclaitis, of Shenandoah. On the body of the former was found a miner,s certificate dated December 28, 1889, given by the board of miners' examiners of the Third Luzerne district. Both men were frightfully mutilated. Rusnoskie's skull was fractured, his left leg broken and his right foot cut entirely off.

Akclaitis' head was crushed in, his neck broken and his legs fractured. The bodies of both were covered with contusions. The men were cleanly and comfortably dressed. Word was received this afternoon from a brother and sister of Rusnoskie, who live in Plymonth, and provisions will be made by them to have both bodies sent on to Luzerne county for interment.

The name and character of the injuries of the unfortunate men's companion could not be ascertained here. He was taken back to Spruce Creek. The accident occurred on a sharp curve as the men were stepping from the north track out of the way of a west-bound train to the south track.

PHILADELPHIANS ON HASTINGS.

They Meet and Pass Resolutions Endorsing the Adjutant General.

The Republican Executive Committees of the Sixth and Tenth Wards, which together comprise the Tenth Legislative District, controlled by ex-Chairman W. R. Leeds, Wednesday night unanimously indorsed the candidacy of Adjutant Gen. Hastings for the Republican nomination for Governor. The Sixth Ward Committee meeting was presided over by Charles Alexander, while Representative W. H. Beam was secretary.

The resolutions of endorsement set forth that "at the approaching State Convention the Republican party will select a candidate for Governor for whose record and character our party will be responsible to the people in November next." and, "that the public duties of Adj. Gen. Hastings have been discharged with rare ability and exemplary fidelity, thus manifesting his fitness for the highest office in the State," and "that we therefore recommend his nomination as the one that will insure success.

The headquarters of the Tenth Ward Committee, at Broad and Race Streets were crowded. Health officer J. G. Patterson presided, and J. G. Hollick was secretary. The resolutions endorsing Adj. Gen. Hastings were presented by W. R. Leeds. They were as follows:

"It is of paramount importance to the Republican party that the candidate selected for governor shall possess the confidence of the people and the ability to administer the varied interests of the Commonwealth," and "that the learning exemplary character and public service of Adjutant General D. H. Hastings commend him to our choice, and that we hereby tender him our cordial support,"

THE ADJUTANT GENERAL APPEARS.

The resolutions were adopted amidst great enthusiasm. A committe was appointed with William R. Leeds as chairman, to wait on Adjutant General Hastings, who was quartered near the meeting place, and escort him before the Executive Committe. The Escort Committee produced the Adjutant General in short order, his entrance being greeted with tremendous applause. When he was notified formally of the action of the organization, Adjutant General Hastings made a short speech which was heartily received. He thanked the meeting for the endorsement and said that if the Republican State Convention selected him as the party's standard bearer in the coming campaign he would do his best for the success of the ticket, and try to show them that the confidence reposed in him was not misplaced. If the convention should on the other hand, select somebody else as the candidate, he would do his best to help elect the nominee. [Great applause.]

After the meeting adjourned Adjutant General Hastings was escorted to the rooms of the William R. Leed's Association, at 806 Cherry Street, where a reception was given in his honor. Frank Bruner, the president of the Association, and H. F. Cantlin, the secretary, and other officers of the club had the affair in charge. A fine collation was served and the time passed most enjoyably, the reception lasting from 9 o'clock until after 11.

An Editor Let Loose.

This is the way the editor feels when he does up his sentiment in blank verse;

"I would flee from the city's rule and law—from its fashions and forms cut loose—and go where the strawberry grows on its straw, and the gooseberry grows on its goose; where the catnip tree is climbed by the cat as she clutches for her prey—the guileless and unsuspecting rat on the rattan bush at play; I will catch with ease the saffron cow and the cowlet in their glee, as they leap in joy from bough to bough on the top of a cowslip tree; and list while the partridge drums his drum and the wood chuck chucks his wood, and the dog devours the dogwood plum in the primitive solitude.

"Oh, let me drink from the mossgrown pump, that was hewn from the pumpkin tree! Eat mush and milk from a rural stump, from folly and fashion free—new gathered mush from the mushroom vine, and milk from the milkweed sweet—with pine apple from the pine. And then to the whitewashed dairy I'll turn, where the dairymaid hastening hies, her ruddy and golden-red butter to churn from the milk of her butterflies; and I'll rise at morn with the earliest bird, to the fragrant farm yard pass, and watch while the farmer turns his herd of grasshoppers out to grass."—Pacific Union.

—The Republican State Central committee will meet at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, April 23, for the purpose of fixing a date for the Republican State Convention. The call must be issued sixty days before a convention can be held, so that the latter will not be held till the last of June.

A Nice New Game.

The new game called "Editors' Delight," says an exchange, is played in this wise: Take a sheet of ordinary writing paper, fold it up carefully and enclose a bank note sufficiently large to pay all arrears and in advance. What adds immensely to the pleasure of the game is to send along the name of a new subscriber or two, accompanied by the cash. Keep your eye on the editor; and if a smile adorns his face the trick works like a charm.

SOME OF THE BIGGEST.

Fish Stories Told and Fish Caught by Active Anglers.

Tuesday was the first day of the trout fishing season and, from as early as two o'clock in the morning till dark in the evening fishermen could be seen on the banks of Spring Creek—in whatever direction one might look.

It seemed as if everybody with all their friends, their rich and their poor relations, from the ragged street urchin to the learned lawyer at the bar—including the register, deputy recorder and the youthful editor of the Centre Democrat—all were there; and the crowd measured two thick on all the banks of Spring Creek from Milesburg to Tussey Mountain.

I had only five. As a sample of fisherman luck we give the following names of a few of those who were fishing and the number they reported having caught:

W. F. Reeder 20, W. C. Heinle 20, W. F. Reber 14, Will Garman 10, George and Fred Jackson 11, M Cunningham 13, Linn Harris 27, Charlie Heisler 23, Harry Ryan 18, Harry Switzer 24, two colored boys 56, a young Walker 20, Garis 32, Frank Naginey 22—all from 8 to 10 inches long, Clayton Brown 12, Lanny DeWitt 34, John Harris, Jr., as told by William Jones, 20, register Rupp and deputy recorder Harter 20—one of which weighed 1½ pounds; J. G. Love, Esq., 3; and last but not least Charles Kurtz, who reported a catch of 100, but others declare he had only 35.

TOWN DETAHS.

The Dread Messenger Visits Four Houses, Leaving Sorrow and Gloom Behind.

From Mondays DAILY NEWS.

Mrs. Olds, wife of Professor F. C. Olds, of State College, died this morning after a lingering illness of many weeks. Mrs. Olds was an estimable lady, honored and esteemed by all who knew her, and her death fills many a heart with sad regret.

We have not yet learned when the funeral will be, but likely on Wednesday.

Mrs. Garis, of Pleasant Gap, died on Friday after a short illness, and was buried on Sunday afternoon: The deceased was aged 58 years.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Houser died on Friday and was buried this morning at Shiloh church cemetery. Aged two years.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Edi Barry, of East Howard street, died on Friday and will be buried this afternoon Aged eighteen months.

She Was Able to Manage Him.

A sad sight was witnessed at the station last evening as the T. & C. train came in. A woman and a little boy got off the train and stood there as if waiting for some person. After the passengers were out the brakeman was seen to drag out a man, who was too intoxicated to walk. The man could not stand and fell sprawling on the platform. The woman was equal to the occasion, however, and taking his bottle, broke it, and caught hold of his collar, and after kicking him in his back for some time succeeded in getting him to his feet. After he got up he drew back as if to strike her, but the timely interference of a bystander prevented him from doing any injury. It was the verdict of those who saw it that the woman was able to hold her own.—Tyrone Herald.

A Bellefonter Praised.

The concert given last evening under the direction of Mrs. Wilfred Gerhart was pronounced a grand success by all who were so fortunate as to hear it. All those participating were heartily received by the audience, and as each did so well it is hardly necessary to particularize. Especial praise however is due Mr. Swope's excellent recitations. Mr. Thomas' fine solos on the harmonica and Mrs. Gerhart's perfect vocal renditions. —Tyrone Herald.

Superintendent Westfall's Promotion.

General Superintendent Neilson, of the Sunbury division of the Northern Central railroad having resigned because of ill health, Thomas Gucher of the Philadelphia division has succeeded him and Superintendent E. B. Westfall succeeds Mr. Gucher as Superintendent of the Philadelphia division: Chief Engineer Hickey succeeds Westfall as Superintendent of the P. & E. with main office at Williamsport. Westfall will now be located at Harrisburg.

Why Not?

Forepaugh is coming and it is probable that several other shows may be in Bellefonte this summer. It has been suggested that the Commissioners, town council, or whoever has the authority, board up the sides of Spring Creek bridge and rent them out for bill boards, thus making a source of revenue to some treasury. Of course, this is only a suggestion.

—It now looks as if the Republican State convention would be held the last week in June.

A MONUMENT TO VIRTUE.

Strong Plea of a Lady for a Noble Memorial to Heroic Clara Price.

From the Pittsburg TIMES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES.—Sir: I have a suggestion to make, which I hope you will not consider altogether a Quixotic one. In your issue of March 3, you speak of a movement being on foot to raise money for the erection of a monument for the murdered girl, Clara Price. I believe a very simple memorial is projected, as the sum to be raised is only about $300. We have many magnificent monuments setting forth the valor and heroic deeds of man, but I believe there is not a single stone in all the world that has ever been raised to the honor of any woman who valued her virtue greater than her life.

Could not the TIMES take up this noble work, and instead of the fund being fixed at $300, let it be ten times or more?

With such backing as your paper would give the enterprise, its success would be assured, and then no mean tablet would mark the last resting place of the noble girl, "Pretty Clara Price."

One of your readers,
JESSIE B. SMITH.

JEANNETTE, Pa., April 16.

[The movement to erect a monument to the memory of Clara Price, who was brutally murdered in Centre county a few months ago while defending her honor by Alfred Andrews, is in the hands of citizens of Centre county, E. I. Gilliland, of Pottersdale; J. A. Heckendorn and W. B. Potter, of Karthaus, have been designated by the committee in charge of the monument to receive funds. Mr. Potter writes the Times that the committee has received about $250; that the people who knew Clara Price are too poor to give much and that contributions from other counties will be thankfully received and properly applied.]

Millheim Musings.

Mr. A. A. Miller, our new landlord of the National hotel, was away buying himself a new horse; the price he paid was $135. Al is doing a good business for the length of time he has been at it.

Miss Mabel Musser has returned from Williamsport where she has been attending school. She has commenced to raise a class and will soon begin to give lessons in instrumental music. Miss Musser is a very amiable and vivacious young lady and we hope she may meet with success.

Mr. H. S. Cole, an insurance agent of Montoursville, Pa., is in town this week.

Dr. E. M. Miller has bought himself a first class new road cart from Mr. William Boop, of Coburn.

Mr. Charles Albright has a very nice lot of sleighs on hand at present—all on account of there being no snow last winter. They are all beauties and very well made, but he could not sell them.

Mr. L. B. Frank was in our town last Tuesday on business.

Garden making seems to be all the go now, and the little injuns are being chucked into the ground by the gal-lons.

Capt. Christ Dale, of Pleasant Gap, and W. H. Musser, of Milesburg, were in Millheim on Friday, purely on business, you know. These gentlemen are always warmly welcomed by their friends and acquaintances.

Politics is very quiet here just now, no great number of candidates looming up just yet. It is probable that the present incumbent, Dr. J. F. Harter will again be a candidate for recorder.

Buy Her Book.

Every person in Bellefonte remembers the Johnstown disaster, but it is possible that every person don't know that "The Story of Johnstown" is one of the best and most accurate descriptions of that terrible catastrophe. Mrs. Daniel McLaughlin, wife of Hon. Daniel McLaughlin, an ex-member of the legislature, of Johnstown, is in Bellefonte canvassing for the above book. Mrs. McLaughlin went through the flood and, through her own heroic exertions, saved her husband, who was an invalid. Col. J. L. Spangler, in speaking of Mrs. McLaughlin, highly commends her as very worthy of patronage. Buy a book of her while she is in Bellefonte.

Not Hagerman's House.

The item in Friday's DAILY NEWS stating that the back part of Hagerman's house was being torn down was a mistake. It was the back part of Mrs. Blanchard's house; it is the intention of that lady to build that portion of it larger than it was. This will be a good improvement on the old addition or L, which was very small.

—FOUND.—A good sized brass key with a large diamond shaped brass tag attached. On the tag is the following "72 Memphremagog House, Newport, Vt." The owner can have the same by calling at this office and paying for this advertisement, otherwise it will be disposed of for old brass.

Rival Inquests and Rival Bills for Payment.

The spectacle of two inquests being held at the same time over the body of a dead infant found on the shore of the river at Williamsport was witnessed Wednesday. When the body was found Alderman Stead impancled a jury, and, as it was evidently a case of infanticide, he commenced an investigation. This action was taken owing to the absence of Coroner Bell, who was reported as being out of the city.

Later in the evening the Coroner arrived and proceeded to the place where the Alderman was holding his inquest. After listening awhile, the Coroner became dissatisfied and the relations of the two officials became strained. The Coroner gave notice that he would take charge, and the Alderman informed his jury that he would continue his investigation, and adjourned until this afternoon. Coroner Bell empaneled another jury and, after hearing some testimony, adjourned until to-day.

Both inquests were resumed to-day and verdicts rendered. The Coroner's jury decided that the child came to its death by drowning at the hands of some person or persons unknown. Alderman Stead's jury decided that the child came to its death by being killed or drowned by some person or persons unknown, and that while living or dead it was thrown into the Susquehanna River, and that the case was of unmistakable child murder.

Both officials made return of the case, and a contest for the fees will probably ensue.

A Census Pointer.

The fact of when taking of the census begins and ends cannot be too often impressed upon our readers, for almost every man and woman will be called on for information of some kind. These calls will begin on Monday, the 2d of June, and will be completed before Sunday, June 15. The purpose is to carry the work forward with every possible dispatch, and the hope is that every man will be fully prepared to give the information expected of him. The census includes much more than a mere count of population. In matter of fact, that is but an insignificant portion of the work to be done. The enumeration will include complete statistics of all the industries, professions, trades and institutions in the country.

—Candidates of both political parties are looming up thick and fast, and from present appearances, the crop promises to be unusually large. Already we know of a half dozen or so who want to be commissioner on the Republican side of the house, while there is even a larger family of Democratic Watchman faith who will signify their willingness to sit in the commissioner's chair. For the office of Sheriff it seems that there will be more aspirants than was at first thought of. Just who the lucky man may be it is now hard to say, but we venture to bet it will not be the man who waits till the last minute to ask for what he wants.

—Bellefonte has always been blessed with grocery stores, and ere long it will have about as large a list of shoe stores and millinery stores. With all this array of places to buy at there will be no reason under the Heavens why the Bellefonte maiden shall not have good understanding and a comfortable and charming head dress.

—Trailing arbutus seems to be abundant this spring and many boquets made up of this delicate little wild flower, were brought to town yesterday by those who had the hardihood to clamber over the hillsides and commune with nature.

KISSES.

(A la Romeo and Juliet.)

A prominent physician calls the kiss "an elegant disseminator of disease." He says, "fever is spread by it, so are lung diseases." Out upon the gnarled and sapless vagabond! Evidently kisses are not for such as he, and the old fox says the grapes are sour. Let him devote himself to making our women healthy and blooming that kisses may be kisses. This can surely be done by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is simply magical in curing diseases peculiar to females. After taking it for a reasonable length of time there will be no more irregularity, backache, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, general debility and kindred ailments.

It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded.

Blair County Convention.

This is the day for the primaries to be held in Blair county. The County Convention will meet on next Tuesday. One month ago Delamater claimed Blair county but now it looks as if our "Dan" would get the delegates. Friday's Altoona Mirror has the following to say regarding the present outlook

"General Daniel H. Hastings, for the last two or three weeks, seems to have got the inside track of other candidates in the race for Gubernatorial position and honors, and within the last few day stock in him has advanced at a wonderful ratio. The prospects are that the delegates of this county will be instructed for him in the State Convention. Mr. Hastings has filled the office of Adjutant General faithfully and deserves some further recognition as a State official. It has been asserted that he was treated unjustly by a few politicians of Cambria county who instructed delegates to vote against him, whilst the sentiment of the people in general was for him. The majority of the voters of Blair county are cognizant of this fact, and in consequence there is a lively booming of his interests in this county."

MUSIC AND LITERATURE.

MR. AND MRS. BONBRIGHT WILL GIVE A CONCERT THAT WILL BE A RARE TREAT.

It has been some time since the residents of Bellefonte have had an opportunity of listening to a rare musical treat as given by home talent but it is confidently expected that on the occasion of next Monday night, when Prof. and Mrs. Bonbright and their respective classes get through with the elaborate programme they have made out for that occasion, the people of Bellefonte will then think that it was well worth the waiting to be permitted to enjoy hearing such an exceptionally brilliant musical and literary treat as the entertainment of next Monday night will most undoubtedly be.

The advanced informal programme to this affair looks surprisingly well, indeed. Preparations have been going on for some time and we may confidently expect an evening of more than ordinary enjoyment. Mr. and Mrs. Bonbright, the two accomplished artists in their respective branches, are carrying on their work in Bellefonte on a more advanced and progressive basis than has heretofore been shown our people, and it is expected that next Monday evening's concert will best illustrate their methods.

It is certain that under their tuition music and elocution have assumed many novel attractions for our young people. Prof. and Mrs. Bonbright have had special advantages both here and abroad, while persuing their studies, and it is believed that these progressive methods will be noticeable in the performances of the pupils on Monday night. The programme is an excellent and varied one and great taste and care is displayed in its arrangement.

Prof. Bonbright will deliver his grand prize contest selection "Schiller's Diver," and Mrs. Bonbright will render several high class musical compositions. The pupils, however, will support the greater portion of the programme with a number of instrumental and vocal parts and some admirable recitations.

The three large rooms at the North end of Crider's Exchange, second floor, will be fitted up for the entertainment, the ladies of the Y. W. C. T. U. kindly donating their hall, thus giving a seating capacity of a couple hundred. The music studio will be at the service of the pupils as a retiring room. All the rooms are well suited to the purpose, being well lighted, airy and seated with chairs.

Decoration Day and Fourth of July.

Can't some person or persons, organization or organizations, get up something attractive for Decoration Day and the 4th of July? It has been a good many years since Bellefonte has had a "blow out" of sufficient "get up," on either of the above named days, that is worth while speaking about. Let something or somebody go to work now and get up an attractive programme that will do honor to the time and place and will make the day a big one in Bellefonte.

Study up something unique and novel—something unlike the conventional decoration day or fourth of July ceremonies and then there will be no reason why the affair should not prove a success. The DAILY NEWS will willingly print any suggestions that may be sent in as to how best observe these days Let us hear from you.

Sensible Words.

The Philadelphia Inquirer has the following very sensible words relative to merchants and advertising: The man who engages in business who doesn't advertise must expect his patronage from passers-by alone. His business is known to about as many people as is a weather-vane in the wilderness. A buyer may drop in occasionally, but the great mass of money-spenders pass him by and flock to the stores that advertise When a person wants to buy anything he no longer rushes into the first store at hand to get, nor does he spend a day in running up and down the streets looking for the cheapest place. The would-be purchaser picks up his paper and carefully reads the adverilsements and selects from them the firm or firms which offer the best inducements. This saves time and money.

—The Patrons of Husbandry of Centre county will observe Arbor Day on the 25th instant, by planting trees on their new picnic grounds at Centre Hall. This is a very good idea and we trust the Patrons may have a nice day and that the trees then planted may grow fast and beautifiy the grounds. All grangers are invited to come and plant a tree.

—Mr. James Harris says just as soon as they strike slate the shares in the Consolidated Oil Company will be advanced to $100 per share. Better buy now. Stock selling like hot buckwheat cakes.

Doings Before Council.

We can this week report progress on the improvements in the Council Chamber. Everything was disaaranged so that it was difficult to tell which was the President's chair and which was the reporter's table. Had it not been for that worthiest of all worthy men Mr Samuel Delige, half the council might have sat on bills and motions all night, as it was they were obliged to sit scalawagged to the original position, with nothing but the bare floor beneath them, the bare walls around them and the blessings of the people who live on East Howard street, including as well, Dr. Hafer, hovering over them. By the next meeting night, however, they intend to have something more substantial and attractive including a special table and a spring bottom cushioned arm chair for the DAILY NEWS reporter. No carpenters, painters or paper hangers need apply as the work is already all contracted for.

Council convened a little late, owing to the absence of the grandfather's clock that hung on the wall, and for that reason didn't do very much and adjourned early; but everything, everybody and every committee reported progress so earnestly and so readily that it does a person's soul good to see that there is something progressive in this apparently dead old borough, even if that something is only "try weakly" reports of the regular and standing committees of the borough council.

Mr. E. Graham appeared before council and asked exoneration of taxes for the years 1888 and 1889. By vote of council was referred to the Finance committee for investigation. Council recommended committee to do all for applicant possible.

Next was the call for the report of committees: Street committee reported progress, considerable examination and —some work done.

Water committee reported progress and recommended the laying of water pipe on East Howard, the cost of which would be about $125. By a vote of council it was so ordered. The committee also requested permission to paint the water works building and the fence surrounding the big spring. Permission given.

Fire and Police committee reported progress and the purchase, for the Undine Hose Company, 300 feet of Maltese Cross rubber hose, at a cost of one dollar per foot.

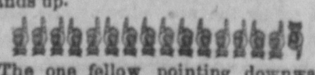
Market committee reported progress but no berries yet ripe nor potatoes fit to dig.

Nuisance committee reported progress also a verbal agreement made with John Potter for a stable for a pondre at then rate of $3 per month for 5 months.

Quite a number of recommendations and applications were handed in for policemen during the coming year, but council unanimously voted in William Garis as Chief and Joshua Folk as policeman for the coming year and fixed the salaries at $35 per month.—Progress.

—The poor trout! on Tuesday Centre county's district attorney, J. C. Meyer and the register, J. A. Rupp, went out to fish for trout. Mr. Meyer will undoubtedly try Blackstonian methods and drive Mr. Trout up to the bar of justice where they will be registered by Mr. Rupp. But, owing to the fact that there will be no court or Sheriff present, their sentence, even if pronounced, will hardly be carried out, and it is likely that very few of the Trout family will be taken prisoners.

—The trout fishers are about as plenty as ever but the trout are plentier——in the brook. Here is a party of sixteen that were out the first day of the season. All that brought home trout hold hands up.



The one fellow pointing downward caught none. They were out on Saturday again and here is there success.

The Cleary Case.

District Attorney A W Brumgard, W C Kress, Esq., and C S McCormick Esq., of Lock Haven, left for Philadelphia Saturday for the purpose of attending a special term of the Supreme Court at which the case of Charles Cleary will be argued. Mr. Brumgard will represent the Commonwealth and Messrs. McCormick and Kress the prisoner.

—The Philipsburg Ledger man, after making an appeal to delinquents to pay up winds up as follows: "We don't want to place our accounts in an Attorney's hands for collection, but by the jiminey porkers, if you don't whack up pretty soon we will be compelled to. This is not bluff, we mean exactly what we say."

—The "Old War Governor" has made application for a membership in the Union Veteran Legion recently established in this place Although the Governor is no ex-soldier he is a member of the Loyal Legion and, had he not been Governor at the breaking out of the war it is easily to be supposed that he would have been a soldier.

—In this issue of the paper we announce the name of Henry Stevens, of Half Moon township, for county commissioner. It has been a long time since that end of the county has had a commissioner, or any county officer for that matter, and it should not longer be slighted. Mr. Stevens would make a good commiesioner.

—The Morris branch of the Bald Eagle railroad—about three quarters of a mile in length—is now completed and operations will soon be pushed to their utmost capacity. Mr. Morris has lots of material to work on and it will be some time before he has all the hills around Bellefonte removed.

—Mr, Frank B. Stover announces himself as a candidate for the nomination for county commissioner. Mr, Stover is thoroughly conversant with the discharge of public finances and the Republican party would go a great ways before it would find a better man.

—A special train will leave Bellefonte at 6.50 o'clock p. m. on Friday evening, April 25th, for the State College, over the Buffalo Run Railroad, and will return the same evening after the Assembly.

HASTINGS IN BLAIR COUNTY.

The Centre County Representative Gets a Big Boom in His Neighbor County.

The Blair county Republican convention was called to order at half past ten o'clock Tuesday morning in the court house at Hollidaysburg. All the delegates elected by the various districts at the primaries on Saturday were present, and a large number of other interested Republicans from different parts of the county filled the town. M. Bridenbaugh, of Martinsburg; T. N. Rupley, of North Woodbury, and H. W. Henshey, of Hollidaysburg.

A vote was then ordered to ascertain the sentiment of the county for a gubernatorial candidate resulting as follows:

Gen. D. H. Hastings	101
G. W. Delamater	26

By motion the nomination of General Hastings was made unanimous.

A committee on resolutions, consist ing of Hon. S. B. Isenberg, Hon. Edmund Shaw, J. M. Dibert, Lynn A. Brua and T. P. Davis was then appointed, after which the names of E. K. Martin and L. A. Watres were announced as candidates for Lieut. Governor, and a single ballot resulted in 154 votes for the former gentleman and none for the latter.

For Delegates to the Republican State Convention, the following gentlemen were named: A. G. Morris, Jno. K. Patterson, Wm. Irvin, G. M. Meadville, D. F. Sunderland, D. G. McCullough. One ballot was taken, resulting in the election of Messrs. Morris and Patterson.

Olie reports times as active in Washington just at present; he also says that Pennsylvania politics is attracting no little attention.

SATURDAY'S BALL GAME.

THE ALTOONA DEFEAT STATE COLLEGE AFTER SOME TROUBLE.

About 800 people assembled at the Fourth street park on Saturday afternoon to witness the game between the Altoona and the State College teams. The game was certainly not one of the brilliant kind and it abounded in mistakes of all kinds. The weather was a little cool for good ball playing and this may account for the numerous errors both at the bat and in the field.

Beam made his first appearance with the home team and pitched good ball for about six innings. His measure was taken by the college boys in the eighth inning, and two three-base hits and two singles were made off him. Gibson was off in his throwing to bases and Hahn played a poor second base. Donoghue led in batting, having four hits with a total of six bases.

The State College boys are a fine looking set of young men, well built and muscular. The individual work was good but their team work was poor. They lack judgment, get bewildered, and do not know what to do with the ball at critical points. Second and third bases were their weakest places. The catching of McLain and Gibson was very fine, neither of them having a passed ball. The former is an excellent thrower to bases. Ellenberger, who pitched for the College team has plenty of contortions, good speed, but poor curves.

Following is the result of the game:

Altoona	0	0	2	4	2	1	0	2	1	—12
State College	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	2	— 6

Summary—Runs earned Altoona 7, State College 2; base on balls, Altoona 3, State College 2; struck out, Altoona 5, State College 8; two base hits, Donahue and O'Brien; three base hits, O'Brien, State College 2. Umpire, E. M. Amies. Time of game, 1.45.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Reuben Butler is seriously ill.

Mrs. John Gardner was brought home from Curwensville last Saturday in feeble health.

Miss Susan Hall, daughter of Joseph Hall, and who has been spending the past eighteen months with her uncle, Daniel Hall, at West Union, Iowa, returned home on Monday.

The "War Governor" at Home.

Ex-Governor A. G. Curtin, after an absence of several months, is again at his home in this place, having arrived on Friday evening last. Mr. Curtin is as tall and straight as ever and does not look any the worse for the severe attack of the grippe from which he suffered during the past winter. He has been in the City of magnificent distances for some time, looking over the fields of his many conflicts and numerous victories; renewing the acquaintances of his active work in national government; familiarizing himself with the present status of governmental rule, but more than all, we guess, enjoying the society of the many friends who know and revere him and who love to talk of times past and gone. Mr. Curtin has also looked on some sad scenes while there as it was direct from the Randall obsequies in Washington that he returned home.

—The new Superintendent of the Philadelphia and Erie railroad division, which includes the Bellefonte, Nittany and Lemont, and the Lewisburg and Bellefonte, Mr. Hickey, of Williamsport, made his first trip over the road this morning.
